President's Report

- A book vending machine was purchased by PTO to have at Kellogg. It was brought to the floor for a vote and was approved by Ericka Haley, Brittany Miller & Nicole Bowman. The machine has been ordered already, and they are waiting to coordinate delivery with the machine ordered for Ryan Intermediate so the shipping costs will be more economical.
- The PTO funded a trip to the Air Zoo for the second graders.
- We have plans in place right now to get every Kellogg student a book before they leave for Spring Break. There will not be a formal book exchange this year.
- There are no other PTO sponsored events planned before Spring Break

Principal's Report

- Courtney spoke a bit on how the vending machine will be used to add-on to the Ahoy reward system. An example would be when classes reach the 1000 Ahoy level, all students in that classroom receive a token to use. Teachers will also receive 5 tokens per month to use as they see fit. This machine is going to take the place of the Kellogg Reading Club.
- March is Reading Month. There will be some fun days where students can bring in flashlights, a stuffy, etc. to read with. There will not be any dress-up days.
- Kellogg PTO is sponsoring a Color Run in April, that will be utilized as a community fundraiser. They are seeking to build a committee of volunteers at this time, and Mrs. Young will be involved in that. Courtney believes that some of the other staff members would like to be involved as well.
